- With Easter well and truly over, the software market drops 12% in units (770,220) but only 9% in value (£16.59m) with all formats down heavily on last week, except for Xbox 360 thanks to a World Cup inspired surge (see below). PC heads the unit table this week (33.8%), declining by just 11% in units (260,659). PS2 loses 18% of unit sell-through compared to last week on 257,662 and 33.5%, whilst PSP declines the least, down 10% in units with 8.6% of the market (66,111). As previously mentioned, Xbox 360 is up 22% in units and climbs 2 places to No4 with 7.1% of all units sold. In terms of value PS2 is on top, down 16% over last week (31.8% / £5.27m), followed by PC, down 8% on £4.54m (27.4% of total value this week), Xbox 360 is 3rd, up 22% over last week on £2.32m (14.0%) and PSP is 4th, down 12% over last week on £1.75m and 10.6% of all value.
- Lara's reign at the top is cut short after 3 weeks as EA take the No1 spot with 'FIFA World Cup Germany 2006' with 33,260 sales (although so far the multi-format title only takes No1 on Xbox 360). Eidos' 'Tomb Raider: Legend' (28,883) only drops to No2, whilst Sega's 'Football Manager 2006' enjoys a surge at the end of the season, up 5% and 4 league positions to No3 (11,392). Nintendo's 'Animal Crossing: Wild World' (11,306) is still doing the business on DS, down just one place to No4. After 2 weeks at No2, Sierra/Vivendi's 'Ice Age 2: The Meltdown' (10,467) drifts 3 places to No5 followed at No6 by EA's 'The Godfather' (10,199). NCSoft debut strongly at No7 with 'Guild Wars: Factions' (9,768), whilst there are a further 3 'new' releases at the tail end of the Top 40: Eidos' 'Rogue Trooper' (2,944) makes it in at No38 and Nintendo claim No39 with 'Tetris DS' (2,923 sales) - both launched the previous week but did not quite make the Top 40 in their debut week. Finally Nintendo unleash yet more quirky DS fun with 'Trauma Center: Under The Knife' (2,888) new at No40.
